Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, June 14, 2001 – 8:00 a.m.

Seeing the situation evolve between my son and you makes us happy; it is not easy to bring you both to where we wish you to be. Your respective personalities have not made this rapprochement easy. Now that the process is underway, your personalities should facilitate our great design in relation to these messages. It will have taken all these years to arrive at a promising perspective. These messages are full of benefits, as you all can see for yourselves, you who are nourished by them. They will be able to tame minds that are far less inclined towards them.

They are universal and within everyone's reach, in their great simplicity.

In some respects, they are comparable to parables, understandable and interpretable at various levels. It will be up to the readers, with a little patience and a strong sense of analysis, to know how to decode them. They have a vibrational reality that must be grasped, in order to draw all their benefits. Happy are the hearts that can appreciate this nourishment.

Modern life places human beings under destabilizing conditions. They flee the cities in search of fresh air and nature, but these repeated departures don't bring them peace of heart, the true relief, if the soul does not find what it is yearning for. How many people thus wander throughout their life without understanding the true reasons of their dissatisfaction!

Be happy, you who know and are committed to a redeeming path.
