Sunday, August 8, 1999 – 8:00 a.m.

Yes, we understand, my daughter, you are not a machine; for months you have been doing this work for us under difficult conditions.
Be at peace, we know. Get some rest, your health is important to us above all.

The Medium: Thank you, Babuji, for your understanding.

If I didn't understand you, who could?
You have truly earned a day of rest.
We must take on our faces of the past so you can recognize us.
We no longer resemble them at all. We are near you; above all, rest. You are in our hearts.

The Medium: I thank you all. I love you and I venerate you.

Babuji