Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, August 12, 1999 – 8:00 a.m.

My dear child, we have tested your heart and your strength of spirit. We already knew we could trust you; once again, you are giving us proof of it. Your favourite saint has come towards you to congratulate you on your attitude during this initiatory journey. She too follows you with love.

Isolation is necessary for you at the moment. You need to learn to say "no".

Rest, be at peace.
