Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, August 21, 1999 – 8:00 a.m.

Don't worry about human judgements; for our part, we know who you are, so what do their foolish reactions matter to you. It's that eternal human failing, judging others without knowing them.

Go beyond all that, look towards us, stay in our vibration. Come to recharge and fortify yourself in order to bear daily life.

Hold firm, we are here.
