Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, August 25, 1999 – 10:00 a.m.

Attach yourself to nothing, to no one, in human terms. The more you advance, the more you realize the frailty of human feelings.

Place yourself solely on the spiritual plane, and from there, give without measure. Be sure to distinguish between these two ways of behaving.

Your heart, totally open, can set the world ablaze. Connect yourself to beings through the divine bond that unites you all, the hidden presence that is inside you all – find it.

Let it grow, all of you, on a grand scale; that can change the world.
