Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, November 27, 1999 – 10:00 a.m.

You are serving us, my daughter, and we are satisfied. Have we not said it already? Do not always be in doubt, as you are; because of it, you do not take into account some of the information that regards you. This information could be useful to you; therefore try to pay attention to it.

My son's trips, even considering the tiredness they bring him, make us happy. They produce such an impact; the results of his work are more and more effective and far reaching. You will all have to get accustomed to the fact that he cannot be physically present everywhere. It is up to you to go towards him insofar as it is possible for you. Europe is vast and Sahaj Marg is spreading, it is in the order of things. You must understand that he cannot satisfy everyone.

France is privileged; for many years my son has been coming to you all, and you do not always make the effort to travel. Even if you have good reasons for not doing so, then you must understand his reasons. Physically, he is not a superman; he also has his limitations in this respect.

Be without fear. Wherever you may be in the world, you do not escape the vigilance of his spiritual power.
