Thursday, October 21, 1999 - 10:00 a.m.

How can one really understand our relationship, my daughter? You, yourself, you still happen to doubt it sometimes. We are old acquaintances, our heart-to-heart bonds are very strong and nobody can change anything about them. It [our relationship] may give rise to doubt, envy or any other feeling; that is the way it goes. Thanks to this means of communication, we have met again, and between our respective planets, distances are abolished. That can make one wonder, or be sceptical, but that does not matter! These messages are real, printed; they are not just hot air, nor an abstraction. The means used is completely opposite to the current techniques, which we have mentioned previously. That is where their originality lies. An open-minded person must try to understand what he has not experienced, and should not be surprised at all by the reality of these exchanges between us."

Babuji