Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Monday, October 25, 1999 - 8:00 a.m.

Letting go does not mean no longer having any will. Simply, in certain circumstances, one should not persevere and try absolutely to get what one wants, which might not be good for you. If it is a big project that is not being achieved, one should see the hand of God in it. You should not invest yourself in what you were planning to do. Instead of clinging hopelessly, you should try to turn the page.

"Concerning the little facts of everyday life or the more important things for your future, something that may seem the best to you is not necessarily desirable for you.

"Do the needful to obtain a result satisfactory to you, and then you should be able to accept whatever happens.

"Our views are not necessarily yours. We must protect you from yourself and direct you towards what is best, in the broad outline of your existence. You have your own free will and you are given options, but these options could be harmful to your evolution. Whatever may happen to you, you should always see it as your destiny in action."
