Why do you think that my son can disown you? If such was the case, that would be indeed quite astounding. Wait and see the next step, even if he does not react, he cannot remain insensitive to the reading of these messages and not be touched by their veracity. Never let yourself be destabilized by negative reactions about our contacts; you have seen worse. In the future, the holders of these messages will have to be careful and be able to face up to incomprehension and criticism.

"Remember the precautions I had to take for mine, which were preserved carefully until the end of my life on Earth and you know that, even until now, they are not admitted and understood by all. You, you were well placed to believe them straightaway, but one should understand those for whom such paranormal phenomena surpass understanding.

"Not everyone can claim to be a medium, and this has nothing to do, as I already said, with the spiritual elevation of a being. It fosters contacts with higher planes and goes hand in hand with it, as far as you are concerned. This suits us perfectly. We have always appreciated your discretion on this issue and your humility about all that. Be at peace my child, and put yourself out of reach, as much as possible, of the stupid reactions that your fellow men can have. Only our appreciation must count for you."
