Saturday, October 30, 1999 - 10:00 a.m.

You are right in making your arrangements so that our contact can be established. We have no time to waste. We have reached a stage where we are operating at an increasingly faster rate. According to the well-known proverb: never put off till tomorrow, et cetera. We are making progress in these messages in spite of some difficult periods. You have never given up and we appreciate that; service comes first, but grace is not enough, courage is also necessary. This third series will be brought to closure. Do you all want to continue? Aren't you tired of our speech? Ask your heart and give us your answer. There are actually some small additional things to say, even if that is not of major importance. All the major topics have been already addressed. We can revert to them; you do not remember them all.

"Some of them have struck you more than others and you have assimilated them. If you so wish, we will review the topics already addressed. It is by insisting through repetitions that the being becomes deeply imbued with the essential truths.

"While we continue, we will polish up our work. Our goal is to achieve masterpieces. We keep an eye on you particularly and we assess with pleasure the impact of these writings on you. Do you realize it? You can be satisfied."

Babuji