There would still be many things to tell you, but we cannot do it, as we are to remain within certain limits. We have stated in the first series truths that will shock without fail. We must advance prudently. Generally accepted ideas should not be shaken up too much. The only truth on which you must concentrate is your personal progress. You have already understood it for a long time, and you are making efforts to progress. We will never come back enough to the fact that they must relate to the connection with the inner Master. It 'all' lies there, inside you. It's the Living Master's work to make you progress in this direction and to make you go further and further into this discovery.

'There, is the divine miracle, this presence in you, this omnipresence. You have always been closely connected to the Creator, but perhaps you did not know it. It would be better to say that you were not really aware of it. See only this objective to be achieved: total, perfect union with the divinity that dwells in you. The important point is well targeted. Do your practice and never lose sight of our teachings."
