Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Monday, November 1, 1999 - 8:00 a.m.

Since you, too, are asking for it, let us continue. You could consider that you have put in enough effort and that you should leave off there; we would understand it very well, but we are not in the habit of giving up.

"On this All Saints' Day, think of all those beings who have led outstanding lives, who distinguished themselves in different fields, but always because the only force which guided them, which made them move on, was God.

"What could be more beautiful than to serve God, to devote one's life to Him, to set an example and to stand as a model for those who take those beings as guides and beacons.

"By their edifying lives, they have left reference points to those who need them.

"Your preferred saint has influenced your life since your youth and remains a role model to you. Therefore, on this day, it is right for you to have grateful thoughts for all these beings recognised or not as saints, but who enlightened humanity.

"You all have something good in you, do not repress it, let it express itself, and especially, you should show it around you. There is so much to do, open your eyes and get down to work for the love of Him."
