Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, April 1, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

Your heart is like a garden. We sow it with the best seeds for the harvest we hope to have.

We understand your questions: where will these beautiful speeches lead me, you think! We have set out together to reach another shore that you don't know about. There will be time, when the moment comes, to let you discover what that landscape is like. We can't express ourselves in a more concrete way.

You are a two-headed being and the other part of you, which is out of your control, leads its life without your knowledge.

It can't be otherwise. We maintain the flame with these messages, to make you understand that your life is not ordinary, but the profound meaning of everything you are going through cannot be revealed at the moment. You must rely completely on divine Providence, which is shaking you up and must also make you happy.

The Medium: May I love you, Venerable?

Yes, you may, you have every reason to do so.
