Friday, September 6, 1996 – 11:45 a.m.

My child, I am with you and I don't forget you as you tend to believe. You will soon solve this health issue; there is nothing serious. Don't stress yourself too much, meditate, give and love. You are making progress, my child, we are preparing for you the way which will make you forget your miseries. You will see how you will be happy to have lived all that. Your heart will overflow with love and gratitude. We are very close to you. Never forget it. You are courageous, be strong, again and always. We help you and we love you. We cannot do better for you. Open up your heart to love, more and more. Let it emanate from you like a perfume; this characterizes your mission. See you soon; look after yourself and be patient."

Babuji