Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, April 4, 2000 – 8:30 a.m.

Haven't I told you that we were going to do good work together, are you going to start believing it? You're not out of surprises yet. The power of the mind, well directed, can transform matter. It's now a question of consolidating what can be consolidated. God, in His infinite goodness, permits us to come to the aid of human beings, to make them aware of the true meaning of life and to open their eyes to the realities of the beyond. There is no predetermined choice; grace goes where it must go. Happy the being who receives it, their destiny takes on a new meaning. Together let's continue this work on you, to give you the physical and moral strength to follow through on what you must accomplish. This blessed moment of your life is also its fulfilment.
