The Medium: Forgive me, Venerable, for reacting this way, but I need some concrete results to remotivate myself, even if they are not visible in me.

There are results in you which are not visible. Can you access the consciousness of each of your cells? Do you control each of your organs, as well as your subtle bodies? So, what are you blaming us for, for not being in front of you in the flesh to explain everything to you?

Your Beloved told you yesterday that he too went through moments of discouragement and rebellion.

Nothing is that simple; everything must be earned, little by little. Persevere by following the few guidelines we are giving you. They're bound to produce results. Nature does its work slowly, imperceptibly. A tree does not cover itself with leaves in a day. Observe nature in spring and you will understand the phenomenon.

Surrender yourself to the divine will which works for your good, whatever you may think and despite appearances.
