We are changing your vibration. In doing so, a certain number of transformations are taking place in you – slowly, as we have already said, at nature's pace. There is no dramatic effect, no thunderbolt, that does not pertain to the scope of our work.

It takes place in the shadows, without your being aware of it. Isn't it the result that matters?

The transmutation of matter, which has always intrigued you, is part of the great divine plan.

Seeking to go more deeply into this mystery is very commendable; nothing is created, everything is renewed, transforms itself according to the laws of creation. Your own transformation, your evolution, is part of this system. Different vibrations lead to other levels of consciousness where you now have your place. Do not seek to know more about this, be entirely surrendered to the Divine.
