Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, September 29, 1999 – 10:00 a.m.

Come and console yourself and regain moral strength here with us. Yes, my child, life is hard for you, with all the appearances of ease. Your physical miseries are not very visible, but we know how you struggle to keep up your state. You continue to take down these messages; the outcome is beautiful. We are taking care not to overload you, so as to stay within reasonable limits.

You were prepared for this work a long time ago. You've always used your gifts to help others, without taking any financial compensation. You've given much around you, and now we use this channel to express ourselves.

You lend yourself with great constancy to this communication – be thanked and blessed.

Don't lose heart because of these new health problems, do what is necessary on your part. We try to help you.
