Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, October 2, 1999 – 10:00 a.m.

My dear daughter, these contacts drain you of energy and you don't have much of it. We try to compensate by helping you with your health problems, even if the results are not evident.

You feel in your heart the joy you give me with these messages that will be delivered to my son.

May this joy carry you throughout this day, and don't forget that we love you too.

Babuji
