Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fourth Revelation

Tuesday, November 16, 1999 - 8:00 a.m.

There is no difference between the street cleaner and the brilliant academician. They are separated only by a social veneer: upbringing, education and culture. What about the real being, which has become incarnate with one appearance or another? Be that as it may, he has the same limitations. He does not see any further than allowed by his human barriers. Humans can only be truly distinguished by nature, by the evolution of the soul and the spiritual life animating it.

"However brilliant you may be, reality escapes you. You should try to cultivate values that go well beyond an incarnation: a capital that will follow you and which will not lose any value, whatever the stock exchange quotations and human appreciations are in general.

"You have decided to follow a spiritual way; therefore you have already understood where the true wealth lies.

"By following this process, you differentiate yourself from a good number of individuals entangled up to their necks in materialism. How long will it take them to lift up their heads and see the light? Therefore, pray for all your brothers who are in this situation and for humanity as a whole."
