Why think that my son could disown you? If that were the case, it would be quite astounding indeed. Wait awhile and see what comes next; even if he doesn't express himself, he cannot remain insensitive to the reading of these messages and untouched by their veracity.

Don't ever let yourself be thrown off balance by negative reactions to our contacts; you've seen it all before. In the future, those who hold these messages will have to be careful and able to face up to incomprehension and criticism. Remember the precautions I had to take for mine, which were carefully preserved until the end of my life on Earth – and you know that, even up to now, they are not accepted and understood by all. For your part, you were in a good position to believe in them straightaway, but one should understand those people who are overcome by such paranormal phenomena.

No one can be a medium at will, and as I've already said, this has nothing to do with a being's spiritual elevation. It fosters contacts with elevated planes and goes hand in hand with it, as far as you are concerned. This suits us perfectly. We have always appreciated your discretion on the matter and your humility in relation to it all.

Be at peace my child, and put yourself out of reach, as much as possible, of the stupid reactions your fellow human beings can have. The only thing that needs to count for you is our appreciation.
