Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, November 3, 1999 – 8:00 a.m.

The radiance of Sahaj Marg is spreading in India; my son is doing an important work. This way is perfectly suited to our compatriots. India is free in this respect; each one practises as they see fit, without restriction. If you do no harm to your neighbor, why should you hide!

We deplore the state of mind prevailing in certain countries in the West, but we cannot change anything. It will take a long time for people's minds to evolve; that will not stop this refreshing wave from bathing souls in need.

The evolution of beings is fraught with all sorts of twists and turns; so it has always been.

Sahaj Marg brings a new vision of the spiritual, and that disturbs some minds. Its simplicity amazes them, what does it hide? What is behind it? Quite simply, an effective means of advancing, with no external pomp, no complicated ritual. It is a rule of life accessible to all.

It requires no more time than gymnastics, jogging or any other care you give your body to keep it in balance – and it allows you to live a great mystical adventure.
