Saturday, November 6, 1999 – 10:00 a.m.

The Medium: You are right, Babuji, we must dream. I dream only of the moment when I will find you and all my loved ones.

I know that dream, but there is no question of that for the moment. You are on Earth and you still have work to do there, so dream wisely.

The Medium: Yes, with pleasure, Babuji. I would like to be able to travel, and hence go to Madras and especially to speak English, if you see what I mean.

One should remain in the realms of the achievable; dream and miracle, those two words don't have the same meaning.

The Medium: Can't one dream of miracles? Is that not part of the game?

You know very well what I mean; you have to know how far you can go in this area. We also know that, for so many years you have been holding on mentally by thinking that one day you would go back to a normal and active life as you had in the past; so we won't deny the power of positive thinking, on the contrary. Do your best, my child. We support you and we love you, that you know.

Babuji