Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, November 9, 1999 – 8:00 a.m.

You can observe around you how much the reactions of individuals who are placed in the same situation can differ. You can see it in relation to these messages; they do not resonate the same way in each of you. On the one hand, you have the data and, on the other, the receivers. What do they experience inside, where do they stand in their spiritual process? What is their personality, their character, their intellectual level? All questions implying that what we are saying will not be perceived in exactly the same way by each of you. As far as you are concerned, all five of you, there are no big differences. Over time, our comments have shaped you in a certain manner and a kind of harmony reigns among you on the spiritual plane. We would like to see it progress even further to form but one heart, this being merely an image. When a father feeds his children with the same food, he does not expect them to be carbon copies. He only appreciates that a certain frame of mind brings them closer and truly unites them on what is essential. You will have the opportunity to reread these messages, and by immersing yourselves in them again, you will understand this one better.
