Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, November 11, 1999 – 10:00 a.m.

My dear daughter, we do not want to tax your strength. We know how much energy these messages take from you. We also know that this does not stop you and that you are ready to go to the end of your strength to satisfy us. It is an act of love on your part and your way of saying to us, use me as you wish – both to him and to us here.

François once told you that the end of your life would be the most important; now you understand why. You are making good progress and that makes us happy, we who love you.

Select what you consider to be most urgent to send to him. See to this with our translator who, as we know, is full of ardour and, so it seems, stops at nothing in his eagerness to comply.

With all our blessings.

Babuji
