Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, December 24, 1999 – 8:00 a.m.

Yes, my child, be totally in love – it's your best nourishment. Let your heart go, do not repress any of its impulses, it cannot mislead you. There is nothing sadder than a being whose heart wilts for lack of love or for fear of expressing it.

Humans bring sorrow on themselves by being egotistic, self-centred and indifferent to others.

God is love, one has to love God, one has to love love. Love your neighbour, all of you, without keeping score, without scrimping and saving. Humanity needs it so much. It would need a tremendous amount of it to keep it from being lost like a drop of water in the desert.

Love is a rare commodity, but give it unrestrainedly and it will be returned to you all a hundredfold.

Don't start seeing only repetitions, my daughter; we like using them when we feel it's useful. You had all asked that these messages continue, so you should have expected it to be so.
