Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, December 29, 1999 – 10:00 a.m.

It is true, one should not mistake idolatry for love. When it is sincere, profound, it has nothing to do with that.

It is not given to everyone to know this kind of love; living it is a true blessing.

Never be afraid to expose yourself, even if there too you cannot be understood by all.

What could be more beautiful for a human being than to live such an experience? Every fibre of your body is imbued with it. This kind of love is the strongest thing any of you can experience in this world.

Yes, once again, we are speaking to you; the readers of these messages will need to get used to it. You are the perfect 'guinea-pig' for us, since you are our medium.

Some of you can identify with what we are talking about, and others may reflect on how they should conduct their sadhana. Everyone must find their own path, according to their inner disposition, and stick to it with faith.
