The Medium: Your criticisms are justified, Babuji; why should I bother about the incomprehension of others, only you matter to me.

Forgive my stupid reactions and please make use of me as you like, to pass on the texts you wish to close this last series. Only your will must come through and you must be able to express yourself without taking account of my reticence.

hat do human conventions matter to you, have you not gone beyond all that? You must conform to them, but in your heart another code of conduct exists. That is the only one you must care about, since it connects you to us.

Do you all see how important it is to reach this state? Do your level best, in all good conscience, and let our fellow human beings talk. Connect yourselves to the inner Master in awkward situations. In silence and contemplation you will find the inspiration to face up to the problems arising in your lives. Nothing is simple, ever – the truth has multiple facets. By advancing in wisdom, you will be able to better decipher what must guide your way.

We bless you all, dear children.
