Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, January 9, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

You convey exactly what we want, do not doubt it. Depending on your state, our contacts are more or less easy, but our words are respected. We'll go until the end of this series, everything will go well, and then you'll be happy to have overcome your scruples. Do you believe we would continue if these writings did not reflect what we wish to express?

We love you, but we wouldn't let you write just anything. Those who will envy you for having been able to do this work won't imagine the energy it required of you and the doubts you had to overcome.

Even if these messages must remain in drawers for a long time, they exist, and nothing can change that.

Your heart was fashioned long ago to receive them. They are an integral part of it, since before being printed on paper they are imprinted within you.

My dear child, soon we will turn the page to read what destiny has written on the next one. There too, our love will accompany you, and that you know.

Babuji