Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, January 10, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

The end of this fourth series does not mean the end of your function as medium. We consider the number of these messages sizeable enough to stop here. Our contacts will continue, don't worry, you will not be forgotten. Your gifts will be used in other ways; there is a need for renewal.

Everything in nature renews itself, within yourselves, around yourselves. It's an eternal new beginning, and these successive cycles must enable you to change on all levels. Approach this coming century with hope in your hearts. See yourselves as new beings, open-minded and spiritually well committed, strengthened by your faith. Let nothing seem unattainable to you; you can reach the goal. Move ahead with a firm stride, nothing should dishearten you – neither events, nor the behaviour of humans and of your brothers and sisters, who are aspirants like you and following the same path. See the light at the end of the road and your ever-present Master, attentive to your needs like a mother is to the needs of her children.
