Monday, September 30, 1996 – 6:00 p.m.

(At the end of cleaning.)

Try to come at Christmas. We will make sure that it takes place in good conditions for you. You know this would make me happy. You are courageous, my child. We follow all your struggles with compassion. We are doing everything possible to help you. Your path is difficult, but fruitful. Take advantage of my son's trip. One has to grasp everything possible. Time is counted! Be at peace, my child, do your best. We are with you; you have my blessing.

(For Françoise.)

Her life is richer than she believes.

Babuji