Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, January 25, 2000

Do not underestimate yourself as you do. University does not give intelligence of the heart, let alone any higher intelligence. One must not confuse everything; you possess uncommon riches, nature has been generous with you. You can be grateful.

Forgive my overly human reactions, Babuji.

If you weren't so human, as you put it in that pejorative sense, you wouldn't be able to accomplish this work.
