Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, April 4, 2015 – 9:45 a.m.

These messages are the result of a connection between the heart of the Masters and those of our abhyasis. Most abhyasis appreciate them, and we are happy about it.

By reading them, they benefit from our energies – particularly when a sincere call manifests on their part. These writings do not exist in vain – we have said it often enough – regardless of what some resistant minds might think of them, the future will confirm these words. Even in a Mission like ours, egotistical reactions can arise; we are not in a perfect world here. It would be too good to be able to resolve everything in this 'way of the heart', even though it is effective in its outcomes. Everything is counted – there lies the inescapable logic that governs humankind. We proceed on this path very confident in what it generates that is great and rewarding for sincere hearts that seek our action. These beings are carried, all advance at their own pace, nothing can be forced. Nonetheless, we can see a great number of beautiful souls opening to the transcendence of Spirit and thus saving precious time.

Blessed are those who advance confident in our action and who progress in proportion to this call. Nothing is in vain; everything is counted, much more so than human beings on this Earth imagine. May all realize where the most important thing truly lies and devote to it the necessary time and commitment to reach the goal. All are helped and supported under our blessings.
