Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, December 28, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

See only the good, the beautiful, that which enchants the soul, beyond all else. This space where the Divine manifests itself is a true blessing, for your heart and the hearts of so many abhyasis around the world, who follow us faithfully. They are particularly blessed, this space of transmission is unique; beyond words is our action, and it is active, you can be sure. Words are repeated, this is necessary; everything in life is eternally beginning anew.

To go beyond matter, to call within oneself the manifestation of the Spirit, the Master's transmission is the wisest thing of all. It sometimes takes time to recognize this necessity, the imperative need to unite with the Divine. Many aspects are to be considered here; finding one's way, one's Master, makes it possible to take a big step.

To follow a spiritual path, under the guidance of an incarnate Master, benefiting from our concerted action that is active in more ways than one, is rare. This should be emphasized. Sahaj Marg is growing in strength, time strengthens it in many ways; this is very positive and it encourages us to proceed ever stronger, for the general welfare.

Nothing, here as elsewhere, is obtained without pain, without perseverance, blessed is an ardent and surrendered heart. We wish the best to all, in light of the coming new year.

May all benefit from the best there is and focus on the essential, supported in this by our special blessings.
