Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, February 28, 2004 – 10:00 a.m.

Fear nothing, live in trust and surrender; the Earth, as you know, is not your home. Accept what can't be changed and cultivate within yourself, constantly, the rare flower of Love. Your heart lives on it only – its beauty, its fragrance letting it glimpse the delights of an elsewhere that can't be found here below. Work towards your elevation; ignore the useless and negative aspects of life in this world.

Unite yourself with the heart of your Master, let him be your refuge on this Earth and your reason to hope for better days, fully illuminated by the divine presence. Do your best in all circumstances without losing sight of your main objective.

Give thanks for what you have, for the graces you receive and for the noblest gift of all, loving God and the divine beings He has placed on your way. Practice according to our views, remain in the spirit of Sahaj Marg, aware of what is offered to you through it, of the strength you share with all your brothers and sisters committed to our way. They don't truly realize what they're receiving, how could they, they're advancing in the inevitable turbulence of their Earthly existence, nevertheless having the hope of fulfilment at heart. Unified in a noble vibration, our aspirants benefit from work they can't assess. They look towards their Master; in him they've placed their trust. His grandeur is hidden from human eyes; such treasures are not exposed. God alone can bestow them and make them bear fruit over time and through work done with complete abnegation and great love.

May all be blessed on this day, especially.

Babuji