Meditate, you are being granted a special transmission. It is a kind of reward for your good services, especially for the love you put into this work using precious and irreplaceable energies.

"We know that does not matter for you; only the fact of satisfying us makes you happy. It is an exchange of love that makes you write down words and sentences which, when put together, let us hope that you will be able to benefit from them and that these messages will make you grow in wisdom.

"Sometimes, a sentence is enough to make you become aware of an important aspect of your behaviour that you neglect. You believe you understand and you know the main thing, and then, one day, some powerful words open your eyes.

"The personality of a human being is moulded bit by bit. The same applies to his spiritual openness; it generally takes place slowly, but grace can literally swoop upon him and carry him to heights that he did not expect to reach.

"You should always be in a state of openness of the heart; let it be an offering to the Creator, who will certainly appreciate it."
