Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, November 6, 2012 – 10:00 a.m.

The divine plans are unfathomable, a human being faces his or her destiny and must bear its consequences, whatever they may be. Doing one's best, managing one's weaknesses, using one's strength, and being carried by faith, one becomes strong and surrenders to this higher power.

Refusing it doesn't help; how many people thus lose their way on the path of life, where nothing is simple. From the humblest to the greatest, all are confronted with trials of all kinds.

Having faith in an ideal and acting on it lays a strong foundation for facing destiny.

Following a spiritual path is a strength. Happy are those who possess it, they engage in a journey that prepares them for this beyond, so mysterious to humans. This world has its laws, its strict rules and also many possibilities for a being who awakens to the higher consciousness. Faith in these powerful forces opens doors – those of the sovereign Spirit, this divine energy, the bearer of all hopes.

Human beings convinced and committed to this way of the heart are choosing the one that suits them and meets their deep aspirations. What we propose to our abhyasis is simple and devoid of rituals of all kinds – going to the essential saves valuable time. Life is short in this sense, one should not forget this and should act accordingly.

We are seeing many young people coming into our Mission, that's promising. They bring an ardour, a determination to move forward and especially to understand the process they're engaged in.

Faith in our principles, an eagerness to practice, to understand the journey of a soul, these open to them a path rich in spiritual prospects. All our abhyasis are followed and helped, to the extent of their call; we don't force anything, but the doors are wide open to all.
