Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, August 21, 2002 – 10:00 a.m.

Be happy to benefit from divine grace and the attention we give you. We keep telling you this, but you humans always want tangible evidence.

In your moments of mystical transport, everything is perfect; then you let yourself be caught up again by the movement of life, and your perception of things changes.

Try to keep a stable spiritual condition at all times, which can shelter you from doubt and discouragement.

We can understand human weaknesses; our lives were particularly difficult, we were spared nothing. Only our spiritual life was the safest refuge.

The guidance of a beloved Master is the supreme comfort, the heart no longer isolated in its solitude. Moved by the graces it receives, it advances in confidence.

Babuji