Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, November 2, 2004 – 10:00 a.m.

Your heart aspires to beauty, to purity. You know the way to this kingdom, it is within you, protected from the harshness of a material world where the worst instincts are given free rein. Discovering this refuge gives strength, helping one cope in many situations. Yes, this kingdom exists, it is won through hard-fought struggle. Natural dispositions help in this work, but the essential remains to be done, which is what we do on our path. An inspired soul finds its own way, as is the case with our aspirants, coming to us, guided towards what is right for them in this current and decisive cycle for a humanity in the making. Thus everything falls into place; this uncommon offensive is being prepared, and people are continuing to live in the same way, flouting nature, as well as many principles of life, without even realizing it, caught in slavish habits. A general awareness would be needed; it will happen, in due course. By repeating ourselves tirelessly, we wish to help our brothers and sisters, to sensitize them to realities that have eluded them until now. For many human beings, the awakening will be tough, they can't imagine to what extent.

To warn our brothers and sisters is also to encourage them to take stock of their current life and what they would like it to be, with absolute clarity, fostering their spiritual quest to the highest degree. Such is our dearest wish, for all.
