Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, November 15, 2000 – 10:30 a.m.

To you, my dear son. You chose to come back to Earth to fulfil this mission. Choices are made before being incarnated that prove difficult to bear. This period of time is only a short passage. A Master of your level also accomplishes a step in his own evolution by serving humanity; there are infinite degrees in this domain.

To serve for love's sake is the most beautiful vocation. The goal is attained, it remains for you to complete your work.

We surround you in this achievement. We cannot conquer all obstacles on your behalf, but quite often we try to get you to bypass them.

Difficulties are part of the challenge. Your character doesn't incline you towards giving up.

You are a man of action and your divine nature does the rest.

What more can be said? It is necessary to go on to the end. Remember my struggles and the efforts I had to make to fulfil my contract.

We do not doubt your capabilities. You have always been able to find in yourself the strength that allows you to proceed and overcome.
