Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Lao–Tze got it right: love triumphs over all. Love is the best thing which man can receive or give. Nothing good, nothing important – humanly speaking – can be done without love. You can cultivate it in you; let it grow to the extent that your cells are imbued with it.

"If you act, if you fight for a right cause and if love guides you, you are bound to succeed. Sooner or later, your efforts will bear fruit. See the example of the Mission, the progress made in twenty years; it is negligible in comparison with eternity, but what a result!

"Love is of the divine essence; its vibration is powerful; it represents a force which you cannot suspect. That of the atom is powerful also, but it can be terribly devastating. Love is a creative form, unique; it is sublime. It is a divine gift, the importance of which incarnate man has started to realise. This concept cannot reach its apogee on the Earth; it prepares you in this life to perceive it as an imposing force on other planes."
