Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, August 2, 2001 – 10:00 a.m.

Be only compassion and love for all these beings that are prey to the forces of evil. Be thankful for being on the side of those who aspire to be united with God and who work to that end. May forgiveness and tolerance characterize you all. Call on love unceasingly, so that not only are your hearts suffused with it, but also all your words and acts.

You are all vectors in one or another category of individuals you belong to. Opt to go further and further towards good and beauty; we help you all in this mystical quest.

Babuji