Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, November 7, 2003 – 10:00 a.m.

The Medium: Teach me to Love, Babuji, as one should Love.

My child, this apprenticeship is very long. You are well on your way, and perfection will be obtained with time and the purification of the heart. Having this profound aspiration shows a good aptitude for succeeding.

Until the end of your life, you will be given opportunities to progress at all levels, according to your wishes. An incarnation is a rare opportunity to get rid of useless things around you and especially within you. It is a delicate task where each asperity must be overcome with wisdom to draw the lesson from it. Until the end of your life, you will have to do this, so that you will manage to keep within yourself an unfailing serenity. Never lose sight of your objective. Immerse yourself in love, as you live it today, in grace and selflessness. Thus you will progress in this conquest, the only one that's worthwhile, as you know already. It will open doors to this state your heart is yearning for.

Don't give up, no matter what may happen. Try to remain focused on your objective. You are progressing towards the goal with perseverance. Our way offers you all that your soul longs for. Rely more than ever on your Master; he is the best guarantor of this success. He is the torchlight lighting your way; the extensions of his heart are innumerable. He carries along in his wake the hearts of our brothers and sisters and well beyond. He himself cannot humanly assess the importance of his work. Each vibration of his divine heart attracts the multitude. That's how it is. His life is precious in more ways than one. Wherever it is, it acts in the purest spirit, with a view to the most complete merger with the Ultimate.

Babuji