Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, January 22, 2005 – 10:00 a.m.

The bond between Master and disciple is unwavering, hence the beauty of this commitment. Families of souls meet again from life to life, strengthened by a subtle bond defying time and space. Our way is spreading out in the world, expanding this family and creating a connection between countries and races with different ways of life. This commonality between all our brothers and sisters enlivens and strengthens our Mission. Beyond appearances, all human beings are alike and carry in them the seed of the Divine. Working on this aspect of union among all our aspirants, whoever they are, is a success; the same love for the Master must unite them beyond human considerations.

Prejudices should be banished. Many of our aspirants still let themselves be taken in, not having understood how this kind of reaction is harmful to their evolution. The diversity within humanity is deliberate; each person has enough to do with themselves, if they really want to, and should avoid judging others as they continue to do. This behaviour is a heavy handicap on which we will keep insisting. Practicing correctly is a good beginning. All the rest must follow and, over time, rid our abhyasis of their bad habits.

Is the garden of your heart perfect, each one of you? If so, the model deserves to be held up as an example, and one to be recorded among the Holy of Holies.

In that respect, may our blessings encourage you in this way where nothing is easy, but efforts are rewarded.

Babuji