Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, March 2, 2014 – 10:00 a.m.

Do not give up – move beyond all these disappointments. Isn't what unites us here stronger than human frailties! This journey of messages is inscribed on Earth and at other levels of consciousness where, as you have noted, these messages are also known. This fact is not trivial, but rather confirms their importance here below and elsewhere; they will withstand the test of time and become the hallmark of this spiritual way. This path has distinctive characteristics, and as human beings become more refined, they will increasingly appreciate this teaching. When it is assimilated daily, it allows aspirants to advance and consolidate their progress towards the Divine.

Love for the Master and trust in his action are decisive; then come the rituals established by each person to better manage this approach. Perseverance bears fruit; it is not harvested in the material sense of the word, but carefully harvested within each person, where it produces precise effects. Advancing towards the goal with delight is the most fruitful gift a seeker can receive.

The heart, this spiritual 'heart' that our Mission has adopted as its symbol, is not only a vital organ for the incarnate being, but also a unique vibratory stronghold where the history of the subtle being – divine in its essence – is inscribed. This organ holds many surprises, and researchers still have much to discover about it. Within each of its cells, the divine energy vibrates, and this energy connects the creature to the Creator of all things. Isn't it logical, then, that the heart should symbolise our path, which is acting in this direction! The future will lead human beings to a more accurate knowledge of human laws.

Everything in its time – we must comply with divine codes and laws as they apply to this world. May peace and love reign here below more and more; such is our dearest wish.
