Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, October 1, 2003 – 10:00 a.m.

Surrender and trust, these are the greatest strengths of a heart that wants to become like that of a child.

Love can easily develop in it as nothing can hinder the special relationship binding the Master's heart with that of the aspirant.

Without calculation or detour, this is what this relationship must be. It is a state that goes beyond egotistical reactions. It is not a question of shining near the Master, but nursing an unconditional love for him, one that surpasses the human framework.

This kind of love is rare. A heart that surrenders itself completely is outside the conventions governing this world. It goes beyond its limits, and it is built at other levels that are indestructible. They reinforce the égrégore of the Mission, of our way, the purpose of which is only to help humanity in its evolution. It attracts souls that strengthen each other in this reserved space. What occurs on Earth, in this material world, finds its counterpart, but of a more purified nature, at higher levels of consciousness. What is concealed from the eyes of humans is important. Their current condition does not enable them to figure it out. No matter, divine laws are immutable and do not take into account the laws of human beings at the current level of their evolution. It is not easy for them to admit this reality, as furthermore they have nothing with which to compare themselves. They can trust us and work seriously; time is running out for them.
