Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, June 8, 2001 – 10:00 a.m.

Let your heart go with its natural propensity: to love. It is happy like that. Turbulences of the mind no longer affect it; at least, no more than necessary. So many of our brothers and sisters rack their brains in trying to show off and outshine their fellow beings in the Mission by attracting Master's attention. They suffer from an anonymity that does not correspond to the high opinion they have of themselves. They do not understand that their destiny is being fulfilled in a state of anonymity. The role of each one, whatever it is, develops under the divine fires, with acceptance and humility being the surest keys in this great game orchestrated according to the tendencies and the asperities hindering their evolution.
