Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, October 24, 2015 – 10:00 a.m.

Prayers emanating from the heart greatly delight our hearts. They are the expression of a love that is highly reserved, yet real in its action beyond this plane of consciousness. This love is an active form of faith in the Masters, in the entire Hierarchy. Being itself so highly supported, it revels in the divine source continuously. This state cannot be described; it is lived intensely, each person receiving it and, above all, experiencing it in his or her own manner. The great mystics of the past and present converge, the same sublime energy carries them and delights them beyond all expression. Is there anything more beautiful to experience, more exhilarating, more redeeming, than this intense faith. Love calls love; it cannot be explained, so far does it surpass human understanding. There lies grace, that grace which carries the soul on to prodigious heights and knows no limit. A fervent soul can only be fulfilled; we are seeing to it here, where these impulses are well received and fulfilled by the effects they produce, to the point of fully satisfying the heart expressing them.

We wish peace and love to all, here and beyond the material plane where this necessary work is performed.

Special blessings.
