Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, June 27, 1999 – 10:00 a.m.

Be joyful abhyasis, radiant. You should not only speak your heart, but also show that following a spiritual way is a beautiful undertaking that makes you happy, even if your material life is not easy.

If you have properly understood where this path leads, then live your unhappy experiences without letting yourselves be deeply affected.

Your soul is there, immortal, intangible; it will outlive all your human dramas.

Think only of its beauty, its greatness.

Cherish it, give it all it needs to let it grow with ease. Do not deny it what is essential.

See only it, merging with the Divine, freed from its shackles, from these fetters you impose on it. Let it blossom under the beneficial rays of Love.

Become Love.

Be Love.

Be completely united with the Divine, whatever the pitfalls, which are not lacking on your way.

Look towards the light and overcome them; you will grow.

Lalaji

My Revered Master has definitely cast his eyes on you. Do not forget it, he is not as conciliatory as I am, but he also knows how to love; here we all know how to love.

Try to free your heart; in the deeper sense of the word, let it implode.

Be blessed.

Babuji