Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, February 6, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

You are a medium, my son is not, and he is alone to manage this Mission that's spreading all over the world. You could help him in certain circumstances while serving as our intermediary.

He has to accept the principle that this should be kept secret, the only people involved – the channel and the translator – remaining in the most absolute discretion.

This would be a commitment of great importance, given that it would not be understood by his entourage.

We try to prepare you both for that particular kind of communication. You have strong personalities and they must attune to each other and harmonize so that the barriers still separating you at present can fall away.

The fact that you don't speak the same language is a heavy handicap, but all these apparent difficulties have to be surmounted. Time does its work; what must be, will be.
